HOME OFFICE. QUINCY, ILL.

INTRODUCTORY

In presenting this, THE CITY DIRECTORY, we do so with the assurance that it is not a new venture for the publishers in this line of work. We have been engaged in directory publishing for a number of years and in no line of work is experience more necessary than in directory business, and the knowledge gained by the publishers has been used to an excellent advantage in this publication.

The work of gathering and compiling the data for a City Directory is more intricate than that of almost any other line. Few men are adapted to it at all, and those who are, naturally go to concerns who are largely engaged in the business. It is necessary to maintain a large force of trained men and to keep them permanently employed, as the work cannot be carried on successfully by new and inexperienced people.

The City Directory is one of the most necessary, important and generally used publications. Every resident is represented and interested; it is a matter of importance that every individual and every institution be properly recorded, for the Directory is used by nearly every inhabitant of the city and by those who visit the city.

A complete canvass has been made of the city and the outlying suburbs by men skilled in the work, and every effort has been made to produce a work which will be in keeping with the advancement of this progressive city.

The Directory is an unexcelled medium for use in the purchase of goods; and every business man should avail himself of the opportunity which it offers for the full and proper classification of his business, and for keeping his card where it may be found at all times by those who seek such information. It contains the names of all adult citizens, with their occupations, places of business and dwellings; also a complete street directory, conveniently arranged in numerical order; rural routes, miscellaneous information, embracing city and county officers, hospitals, banks, cemeteries, churches, clubs, colleges and schools, postoffice, railroads, societies, and a street and avenue guide.

A classified Business Directory will be found in one section of the work, and will be appreciated as a useful purchaser's guide by the residents as well as by others who look to this market for supplies.

Keep your Directory in a convenient place for frequent reference and invite your customers to use it. If they consult it, you will confer a favor on them, as well as extend your acquaintance and advertise your business.

In conclusion we desire to heartily thank our patrons for their generous support. A glance at the advertisements in this work will show that the manufacturers, merchants, etc., have been very liberal with their patronage.

We will continue to issue THE CITY DIRECTORY biennially until the city shall have attained such a growth that it will be necessary to issue a new directory each year.

There being no rule for spelling proper names, we would suggest that you look for it under several headings.

tion or business is to distinguish persons of the same name apart; anything else is advertising.

Name in Parenthesis () is Wife's Name.

This directory shows the number of each building and residence and the name of the firm or head of the family therein.
